

CURATING CULTURE / MAKING MEMORY

On The POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews

Sunday, April 3, 2016

11:00AM — FREE FILM SCREENING

“Raise the Roof”

Landmark Shattuck Theater
2230 Shattuck Ave. Berkeley, CA 94704 | 510-644-2992

1:30 - 6:00 PM — SPEAKERS

1:45 PM

RICK AND LAURA BROWN OF HANDSHOUSE STUDIO,
“Making / History: The Wooden Synagogue
Replication Project”
Lori Starr, respondent

3:00 PM

JEFFREY SHANDLER, “The Jewish Museum Effect”
Francesco Spagnolo, respondent

4:15 PM

BARBARA KIRSHENBLATT-GIMBLETT, “Materializing History:
Presenting the History of Polish Jews”

5:15 PM — RECEPTION

Magnes Collection of Jewish Art and Life
2121 Allston Way, Berkeley, CA 94720
510-643-2526

Free and open to the public

Cosponsored by the Center for Jewish Studies at the Graduate Theological Union, the Center for Jewish Studies at the University of California, Berkeley, and the
Magnes Collection of Jewish Art and Life

For more information:

510-649-2482 or cjs@gtu.edu

Monday, April 4, 2016

12:30 - 1:00 PM

BARBARA KIRSHENBLATT-GIMBLETT

“Roman Vishniac Rediscovered” in the context of her work at the POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews in Warsaw

The Contemporary Jewish Museum | 736 Mission Street,
San Francisco | 415-655-7881 | Free with museum admission

7:00 PM

BARBARA KIRSHENBLATT-GIMBLETT

“POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews”

JCCSF | 3200 California Street, San Francisco | 415-292-1233
arts@jccsf.org

Painting the wooden synagogue's ceiling

Tuesday, April 5, 2016

5:00 PM

BARBARA KIRSHENBLATT-GIMBLETT

“POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews”

Stanford University | The Terrace Room
(4th floor), Margaret Jacks Hall
650-725-2789

Free and open to the public

PHOTO: RICK AND LAURA BROWN/HANDSHOUSE STUDIO

taubephilanthropies.org

This ad is sponsored by the Taube Philanthropies' Jewish Peoplehood Initiative, which serves as a central organizing force in reinvigorating Jewish communal interests, deepening Jewish consciousness, and stimulating multigenerational participation in Jewish life and culture in San Francisco, Israel and Eastern Europe.